

GOVERNOR REMOVES JAILER FROM WHOM MOB TOOK NEGRO

Fifty Men Take Negro From Jail at Versailles and Hang Him Early Sunday Morning

(By Associated Press)

Frankfort, Ky., March 12.—Governor Morrow today issued a proclamation removing John H. Edger, jailer of Woodford county, from office. This is the first removal from a public office under the act of 1920.

The sheriff of Woodford county will also be removed if circumstances justify this step, Governor Morrow said.

For the arrest of each man who took part in the lynching the governor has announced that the state will pay a reward of $500. The state executive was severe in his criticism of officials of Woodford county and said no request for troops or state protection against mob violence had been received at the capital.

"This affair is an outrage against law and order," the governor said.

Jailer May Make a Contest

(By Associated Press)

Versailles, Ky., March 14.—The calling of a special grand jury to investigate the lynching here Sunday morning of Richard James, negro, today awaited the return of Circuit Judge Stout, who has been out of the city.

An inquest over James will be held late today.

What action Jailer John H. Edger will take regarding Governor Morrow's order removing him from office is uncertain. It was said at the jail. It is stated, however, that Edger might make a contest which would be the first under the new Kentucky law providing for removal of officers who permit prisoners to be taken away from them.

Versailles, Ky., March 14.—Arrested by the failure of a jury Saturday to agree on a death sentence for Richard James, a negro, charged with the murder of two distillery guards at Midway on October 8, a mob of more than 50 men early Sunday morning took the prisoner from the Woodford county jail here and hanged him from a tree less than a mile from Versailles on the Frankfort pike.

The mob drove up to the jail shortly before 1:30 o'clock Sunday morning in seven automobiles heavily loaded. A guard was quietly thrown about the jail, following which four masked men knocked at the door of the home of John E. Edger, the jailer.

When he came to the door the men seized him and wrested the keys to the jail away from him. "You won't be harmed, but we are going to get James," the men told him, he said.

The mob then entered the jail and went to the cell where James was confined. James resisted the attempt of the mob to take him from his cell and it was only after a struggle that he was overpowered. It is said that when the first man entered James's cell he struck him with his fist and engaged the others in a rough and tumble fight.

It was only after the negro had been struck over the head several times with a blackjack that he was subdued sufficiently for the mob to take him from the jail.

After taking James from his cell, he was placed in one of the waiting automobiles and taken about one-half mile from the city limits of Versailles to the intersection of the pike leading from Versailles to Frankfort with a road that crosses to the Old Frankfort pike.

Here from a lower limb of a cottonwood tree a rope was swung and the noose fastened about the neck of the doomed man. After he had been pulled several feet from the ground the other end of the rope was fastened about the base of another tree and the mob drove off.

It is said that James made desperate attempts to free himself and the rope with which he was hung was said to bear the teeth marks of James, showing where he had attempted to bite the rope which was strangling him.

The body was cut down at five o'clock Sunday morning when it was found dangling less than five feet from the ground. The tree from which James was hung is about 100 yards from another tree from which a negro was hung by a mob less than 25 years ago.

Whether Jailer Edger was able to identify any of the men in the mob is not known. It is believed, however, that he did not recognize any of the men as the four who seized him when he came to the door of his home were masked. The others were some distance away and standing in the dark. The members of the mob are all believed to have come from the Midway section as they came to Versailles in machines from that direction.

The tree from which James was hung is about 400 yards from Margaret College, a girls' school. The institution faces on a street of Versailles, but from the rear of the institution the spot where the negro was hung can be plainly seen.

Feeling has been high since the trial of James began, though authorities were not prepared for such action on the part of the citizens. James was accused of the killing of Ben T. Rogers and Homer Nave, of Midway, on October 8 of last year, when he was apprehended while attempting to rob the Midway distillery. James was arrested along with two other negroes who are now in jail at Frankfort in custody of federal officers who have then charged with the robbery of the distillery. The killing of Rogers is said to have been especially brutal as it was shown that he was shot in the back at close range, powder burns having been found on his clothes.

The trial of James has been on for several days in the Woodford circuit court before Judge Robert L. Stout. After being hopelessly hung for 24 hours, the jury trying the case was released shortly after 5 o'clock Saturday afternoon by Judge Stout. The final ballot when the jury was discharged stood 11 for imposition of death and one for life imprisonment.

Judge Stout in an attempt to allay feeling ordered the case assigned for retrial on March 28, calling a special term of court. With the discharge of the jury Saturday afternoon, C. M. Harris and N. W. Nichols, attorneys who had been appointed by the court to defend James, asked that they be relieved of further service in the case. Their request was granted.

The shooting of Rogers and Nave, of which James was accused, occurred early on the morning of October 8. James along with several other negroes was discovered in the distillery by the guards. Nave and Rogers rushed to the assistance of the officers and during the exchange of shots Rogers and Nave were killed. Rogers died at the Good Samaritan hospital shortly after being shot. Both men fell near the door of the distillery leading from the office into the warehouse.

Federal authorities immediately began a search for the men supposed to have done the shooting and entered the distillery. Five negroes were arrested for the crime and several days later Harry Scay, in charge of the bottling plant of the distillery, was also taken into custody, it being charged that he on several occasions had admitted the negroes into the distillery. Scay is out on bond at the present time.

James surrendered to the authorities two days after the occurrence of the shooting. During the fight with the officers he was wounded and hid in cornfields, finally making his way to a negro's home in Midway. He later surrendered to the federal authorities, who took him to Lexington. James for several weeks was in a serious condition, the bullet having penetrated his abdomen. He recovered, however, and was again placed in the Fayette jail. Shortly afterwards he was taken to Versailles and placed in jail, where he remained until he was taken out and hung.

ADVERTISING FOR CO. SCHOOL HEAD

New County Board of Education Organized and at Work—Salary Question Impends

Fully organized, with bright prospects for the country schools of Madison county than they have ever known, the County Board of Education of Madison county is now publicly advertising for applicants for Superintendent of Schools for the county. This action is taken under the new state school law, which was designed to take the school out of politics. The new law gives the County Board of Education the right to name the Superintendent, regardless of political affiliations, or place of residence. It is hoped in this way to secure the very best man possible.

It is understood that a number of applications have already been received. However, none of the applicants are willing to come to the work for a salary less than $3,000 a year. It is understood the salary in the past has been $1,200 a year. Superintendent B. E. Edwards says that he has held the office at a loss for the past year or so, rent costing him in town $480 a year, while the keep of his small car which is necessary for visiting the country schools amounts to over $600 a year. Mr. Edwards has not made application for re-appointment.

The new County Board organized with J. F. Ford, of Speedwell, chairman, and A. J. Million, of Newby, vice chairman. Drawing for the terms was held. Dr. J. H. Rutledge and J. H. Ford drew one-year terms each; R. O. Moberly the two-year term; A. J. Million three-year term and B. B. Wilson the four-year term.

A committee visited the Cambridge school last week and selected a new building site. Miss Brandenburg is teacher there. At Watts school additional land was obtained. The present school premises are contained in a quarter of an acre, forcing the children to use the pike for a playground. Miss Norvell is teacher, and has 85 pupils in her school.

Nearly all the country schools are now reopening for the spring term. A teacher shortage is being felt, by reason of the fact that so many of the country teachers are now taking normal work.

Fight Over Re-routing of the Dixie Highway

A fight over the proposed re-routing of the Dixie Highway by way of Falmouth and Paris instead of Williamstown and Georgetown is expected to develop Monday when a meeting will be held in Frankfort of representatives from the different counties who are rivals for state and federal aid in road building. Committees from the board of commerce and the Automobile Trades Association will go from Lexington. Lexington will be neutral at the session. Georgetown has been very active since the recent decision to leave Scott county out of the itinerary.

Five of the legs are fully developed and used by the little fellow in walking. Mr. Pigg states. The sixth limb is a trifle short and is not used for propelling purposes.

The lamb is alive and doing well, and seems as frisky as any of 'em. Mr. Pigg may bring the curiosity to town to exhibit it, as soon as it gets a little older and stronger.

SIX ARE IRISHMEN HANGED AT DUBLIN

(By Associated Press)

Dublin, March 14.—Six prisoners convicted of complicity in the killing of British intelligence officers and members of the crown forces in Ireland were hanged in pairs at intervals of an hour in Mount Joy prison today. Twenty thousand persons gathered outside the prison while the executions were being conducted. All work in the city was stopped until they were concluded.

Not since the executions following the 1916 uprisings has Ireland been more profoundly stirred. No hint of the grim proceedings had reached the multitude outside the prison and not until 8:20 o'clock, more than two hours after the executions began, did the crowd know the fate of the prisoners. Shortly after a notice was posted that the executions had been carried out, the crowd dispersed. The atmosphere of the city is rife with anxiety and expectations of developments to follow.

TWO OIL BARGES 'HANG UP' IN LOCKS

Two large oil barges from Es-till and Lee counties were "hung up" at the lock at Boonesboro nearly all day Sunday. A defect in the mechanism of the locks, prevented their opening after the barges had gone into the channels. A diver was sent for from the government river station at Frankfort and worked from eight o'clock Sunday morning until late that afternoon before releasing the apparatus which was failing to function. The barges had gone en route down river to the end of the pipe line near Clay's Ferry bridge. From there oil is pumped through the pipe into the refinery at Lexington. Quite a number of boats were delayed in river passage while the lockswere out of shape. Many spectators gathered to watch the work of release.

Looking for the Leak in the Tank When He Fell in

It was learned from a visitor from Lancaster that Mr. Ben F. Hudson, the prominent banker and farmer who lost his life from falling into a water tank, lost his balance and fell in while looking for a leak. It was said that Mr. Hudson had been trying to locate the leak for some time, as the builder of the tank had said he would repair it whenever they found where the leakage was taking place. Several persons about the farm had heard Mr. Hudson's cries for help, but it was some time before anyone could locate from whence the call for help had come. His life might have been saved had help reached him any sooner.

Jackson, Ky., March 14.—John M. Cornett, 69 years old, a Lee county miner, was brought to a Jackson hospital early today suffering with a broken back, both legs broken, a broken nose and severe cuts on the head and face, sustained when in a slate fall.

His right leg was broken in seven places, and his left leg was fractured in three places. Their clothes then were returned to them and they were warned to stay out of Barton county.

LITTLE GIRL SELLS A RECORD CROP

Miss Beulah May Goins, of Round Hill, Again Sells Fancy Weed for Fancy Price

What is said to be the high basket and the high crop record for the Richmond market for the season so far was made by a 13-year-old young lady of the Round Hill section, who sold her crop this week. She is Miss Beulah May Goins, granddaughter of J. D. Long, a prominent farmer of the Round Hill section. Little Miss Goins puts in her own crop each year, at the same time her grandfather is working his tobacco, and she always gets a good crop and a good price. She sold her crop of 55 pounds for $34.40. The baskets sold as follows: 10 pounds at 60 cents a pound; 15 pounds at 42 cents a pound; 10 pounds at 65 cents a pound and 20 pounds at 53 cents a pound. Then when her grandfather was getting his tobacco ready for market, the thrifty girl picked up leaves from his crop that had been torn off or discarded, getting together 45 pounds of them, which she sold for $5.22.

Mr. Long himself brought in a mighty nice crop and got a good figure. He says, what has generally proven to be the case—that the Round Hill country produces the finest tobacco in the world. He sold 1,210 pounds for $194.30, the baskets selling as follows: 355 pounds at $37; 220 at 47 cents; 235 at 45 cents; 180 at 39 cents; 220 at 38 cents.

GOVERNOR REMOVES JAILER FROM WHOM MOB TOOK NEGRO

Fifty Men Take Negro From Jail at Versailles and Hang Him Early Sunday Morning

(By Associated Press)

Frankfort, Ky., March 12.—Governor Morrow today issued a proclamation removing John H. Edger, jailer of Woodford county, from office. This is the first removal from a public office under the act of 1920.

The sheriff of Woodford county will also be removed if circumstances justify this step, Governor Morrow said.

For the arrest of each man who took part in the lynching the governor has announced that the state will pay a reward of $500. Jailer May Make a Contest

(By Associated Press)

Versailles, Ky., March 14.—The calling of a special grand jury to investigate the lynching here Sunday morning of Richard James, negro, today awaited the return of Circuit Judge Stout, who has been out of the city.

An inquest over James will be held late today.

What action Jailer John H. Edger will take regarding Governor Morrow's order removing him from office is uncertain. It was said at the jail. It is stated, however, that Edger might make a contest which would be the first under the new Kentucky law providing for removal of officers who permit prisoners to be taken away from them.

Versailles, Ky., March 14.—Aroused by the failure of a jury Saturday to agree on a death sentence for Richard James, a negro, charged with the murder of two distillery guards at Midway on October 8, a mob of more than 50 men early Sunday morning took the prisoner from the Woodford county jail here and hanged him from a tree less than a mile from Versailles on the Frankfort pike.

With the discharge of the jury Saturday afternoon, C. M. Harris and N. W. Nichols, attorneys who had been appointed by the court to defend James, asked that they be relieved of further service in the case. Their request was granted.

The shooting of Rogers and Nave, of which James was accused, occurred early on the morning of October 8. James along with several other negroes was discovered in the distillery by the guards. Nave and Rogers rushed to the assistance of the officers and during the exchange of shots Rogers and Nave were killed. Rogers died at the Good Samaritan hospital shortly after being shot. Middlesboro, Ky., March 14.—Fire originating in a pressing shop in the rear of the City Barbershop at 3 o'clock Sunday morning threatened an entire block in the heart of the business section. The property is owned by E. N. Ingram, former county judge. A dozen patients in the Wilson hospital, two doors away, were prepared for removal, but the flames were checked before this was necessary.

Jack Chandler, 16, son of a Louisville attorney, and George Shaw, 17, of Fort Worth, Texas, are charged with setting fire to a dormitory at Branham & Hughes Military Academy, at Spring Hill, Tenn., when they were not given longer Easter vacations.

Five firemen lost their lives in a $500,000 blaze at Richmond, Va., which destroyed two furniture stores on Broad street.

An aged woman was killed on the beach at Jacksonville, Fla., by a descending airplane.

A Six-Legged Lamb

A six-legged lamb was born on the farm of E. L. Pigg, well known farmer of the Red House section, Sunday.

Five of the legs are fully developed and used by the little fellow in walking. Mr. Pigg states. The sixth limb is a trifle short and is not used for propelling purposes.

The lamb is alive and doing well, and seems as frisky as any of 'em. Mr. Pigg may bring the curiosity to town to exhibit it, as soon as it gets a little older and stronger.

Home Warehouse, 4,270,020 pounds for $642,616.99; Madison Warehouse, 3,076,125 pounds for $457,732.23.

SIX ARE IRISHMEN HANGED AT DUBLIN

(By Associated Press)

Dublin, March 14.—Six prisoners convicted of complicity in the killing of British intelligence officers and members of the crown forces in Ireland were hanged in pairs at intervals of an hour in Mount Joy prison today. Twenty thousand persons gathered outside the prison while the executions were being conducted. All work in the city was stopped until they were concluded.

Not since the executions following the 1916 uprisings has Ireland been more profoundly stirred. No hint of the grim proceedings had reached the multitude outside the prison and not until 8:20 o'clock, more than two hours after the executions began, did the crowd know the fate of the prisoners. Shortly after a notice was posted that the executions had been carried out, the crowd dispersed. The atmosphere of the city is rife with anxiety and expectations of developments to follow.

Irish Will Make Reprisals

(By Associated Press)

Cincinnati, O., March 14.—Donah O'Callaghan, Lord Mayor of Cork, who arrived here today, said the hanging of six prisoners of the Irish Republican Army "means six more prisoners of war murdered and may result in reprisals which will be a regrettable thing."

CITY SCHOOLS REOPEN FOR WORK MONDAY

Grades From Caldwell Arranged at Various Places With Only One Session a Day

Richmond's city schools opened for work Monday after having been closed four days on account of the destruction of Caldwell graded school by fire last week. The various grades are scattered about town wherever accommodations of sufficient size could be secured. Supt. John Howard Payne on Monday issued the following notice to children and their parents, as to location of the grades and other details:

The city schools started Monday morning in the following places:

Miss Traynor, 1st grade, at the First Christian church.
Miss Harlow, 1st grade at Madison High School.
Miss Fince, 2nd grade at Madison High School.
Miss McKinney, 2nd grade at Methodist church.
Miss McCarthy, 2nd grade at Methodist church.
Miss Oldham, 3rd grade at Police Court.
Miss Telford, 3rd grade at the Court House.
Miss Pates, 4th grade at Court House.
Miss Dudley, 4th grade at 1st Baptist church.
Miss Parke, 5th grade at Madison High School.
Miss White, 5th grade at Second Presbyterian church.
Miss Kinkle, 6th grade at University Hall, Normal School.
Mrs. Kanitzar, 7th grade Second Christian church.
Mr. Gabby, 8th grade, Court House.

First and second grades will adjourn at twelve o'clock; the third and fourth grades at 2:30; the fifth, sixth and seventh grades at 1 o'clock. There will be only one session a day for all rooms because of the playground situation and because of material and equipment. The parents are requested not to allow their children to reach the above named places before eight o'clock. This regulation will be strictly enforced. The whole plan will be a taste of pioneer days. The patience of the community will be necessary in this time of crisis.

TWO OIL BARGES 'HANG UP' IN LOCKS

Two large oil barges from Esstlill and Lee counties were "hung up" at the lock at Boonesboro nearly all day Sunday. A defect in the mechanism of the locks prevented their opening after the barges had gone into the channels. A diver was sent from the government river station at Frankfort and worked from eight o'clock Sunday morning until late that afternoon before releasing the apparatus which was failing to function. The barges had gone into the locks late Saturday night, en route down river to the end of the pipe line near Clay's Ferry bridge. From there oil is pumped through the pipe into the refinery at Lexington. Quite a number of boats were delayed in river passage while the lockswere out of shape. Many spectators gathered to watch the work of release.

Looking for the Leak in the Tank When He Fell in

It was learned from a visitor from Lancaster that Mr. Ben F. Hudson, the prominent banker and farmer who lost his life from falling into a water tank, lost his balance and fell in while looking for a leak. It was said that Mr. Hudson had been trying to locate the leak for some time, as the builder of the tank had said he would repair it whenever they found where the leakage was taking place. Several persons about the farm had heard Mr. Hudson's cries for help, but it was some time before anyone could locate from whence the call for help had come. His life might have been saved had help reached him any sooner.

WALLACE IS JUDGE ADVOCATE GENERAL

His many friends at home here were interested to learn of the appointment which William Wallace has received from the state administration at Frankfort, where he practices law. He has been named Judge Advocate General of the State Military Department under the Adjutant General, with the rank of Colonel. The position pays about $150 a month and will not interfere with his law work, it is understood. Mr. Wallace spent Sunday at home here with his parents, Tom and Mrs. C. C. Wallace. His friends say that Wallace's service with the American army in France admirably fits him for the work with the state militia.

AGED MINER SHOWS RARE GAMENESS

Jackson, Ky., March 14.—John M. Cornett, 69 years old, a Lee county miner, was brought to a Jackson hospital early today suffering with a broken back, both legs broken, a broken nose and severe cuts on the head and face, sustained when in a slate fall. His right leg was broken in seven places, and his left leg was fractured in three places. Cornett was placed on the operating table immediately after being brought to the hospital and several operations have been performed, during which the aged miner refused to take an anesthetic. Physicians announced that they believed he would recover.

TAR AND FEATHERS FOR 'NON-PARTISANS'

Great Bend, Kan., March 14.—A coat of tar was the reception given to the latest Nonpartisan League "invasion" of Barton county here early today. A mob of more than 200 men, many of them members of the American Legion, from Lyons, Ellinwood, and this city, took J. O. Stevie, state organizer of the league, and A. A. Parsons, state secretary of the organization, to a spot a few miles north of the city where they forced the two men to dabble themselves with tar and then roll in grass.

Their clothes then were returned to them and they were warned to stay out of Barton county.

Yesterday J. Ralph Burton, former United States Senator, and recently a member of the party from Salina which investigated and "white washed" the Nonpartisan League's administration in North Dakota, and Prof. Wilson, one of the organizers of the league, were escorted from the city.

LITTLE GIRL SELLS A RECORD CROP

What is said to be the high basket and the high crop record for the Richmond market for the season so far was made by a 13-year-old young lady of the Round Hill section, who sold her crop this week. She is Miss Beulah May Goins, granddaughter of J. D. Long, a prominent farmer of the Round Hill section. Little Miss Goins puts in her own crop each year, at the same time her grandfather is working his tobacco, and she always gets a good crop and a good price. She sold her crop of 55 pounds for $34.40. The baskets sold as follows: 10 pounds at 60 cents a pound; 15 pounds at 42 cents a pound; 10 pounds at 63 cents a pound and 20 pounds at 65 cents a pound. Then when her grandfather was getting his tobacco ready for market, the thrifty girl picked up leaves from his crop that had been torn off or discarded, getting together 45 pounds of them, which she sold for $5.22.

Mr. Long himself brought in a mighty nice crop and got a good figure. He says what has generally proven to be the case—that the Round Hill country produces the finest tobacco in the world. He sold 1,210 pounds for $194.30, the baskets selling as follows: 355 pounds at $37; 220 at 47 cents; 235 at 45 cents; 186 at 39 cents; 220 at 38 cents.

Another Horrible Murder

New York, March 14.—With skull fractured and finger prints of her murderer showing plainly on the torn throat, the mutilated body of Mrs. Edith Wilson, 26 years old, pretty organist, was found in a mud-mired lot in the rear of her home at Perth Amboy N. J., early Sunday.

The young woman, one of the most popular in church and social circles of Perth Amboy, fought desperately to save her life. This is proved by the signs of a terrible struggle that was waged between the murderer, or murderers, and the victim.

To Work at Berea
The Danville Advocate said last week:
William E. Jones of Berea, was in town today. He says the board of council of that town has just awarded a contract for fifty thousand dollars' worth of improvement to be made in the water plant. Mr. Hugh Logan, of Danville, is the leading plumber of the town and will be very busy for some time to come. His brother, Mr. Jocko Logan of this city, will go to Berea the first of May to engage in the plumbing business with his brother.

Hon. W. B. Smith Says
"This is a Disgrace"
Richmond, Ky., March 11, 1921. Senator Lodge, Washington.
Dear Sir: You will remember about two years ago I wrote you a letter commending your course with Mr. Wilson. I now write you this letter on something more important.

The senate of the United States has from the foundation of the government up to this time been regarded as the bulwark of our liberty and has always been noted for its wisdom, dignity, its conservatism and patriotism and it is to be greatly desired that it should always have this place in the confidence and affections of the American people.
Now, Senator, how can you expect the senate to have the influence it has had when you permit the man who has been tried for a felony and convicted in his own vicinage, sentenced by the judge of this court to serve a term in the penitentiary to remain in the senate?
I hope you will give this matter due consideration, as I believe if Mr. Newberry finds out that such a motion would be made, that he would resign his place. If he does not something ought to be done in this matter. It will not do for the American people or the world to lose confidence and great respect for the senate of the United States. Respectfully,
W. B. SMITH.

Lumber Costs Drop
Lexington, Ky., March 14.—Lumber costs on the average building have dropped 42 per cent from the peak prices of last year, carefully compiled figures of Lexington contractors presented at a meeting of Lexington building contractors here showed. Altho other costs have not fallen quite so much, the drop on the cost of the average dwelling of from five to eight rooms is between 20 and 25 per cent, it was announced.

Like Richmond's Appearance
Henry Lyons Nickols, of Danville, who inspected Richmond Chapter the other day, went back home, highly pleased with his reception here and the general appearance of Richmond, according to the following which appeared in the Danville Advocate and will be read with interest:
Councilman Henry Lyons Nickols returned this morning from Richmond, where he made an official inspection of the Masonic Chapter in that city. He says the people of Richmond are most hospitable and that he spent a most enjoyable time while there. He says that the new streets have made such a wonderful improvement in the appearance of the old town that he hardly knew the place when he drove in. However, Richmond will not have anything on Danville when the new streets here are finished.

The building of the Jackson Way through Barren county is estimated to cost $1,000,000 of which the county has contributed $100,000.

KING SWOPE TO PASS 8TH DISTRICT PLUMS

Ex-Congressman King Swope has returned to Kentucky and resumed the practice of law, with offices at Lexington and Danville. He's going to have an influential voice in the 8th district patronage matters. The Louisville Times said Saturday:
"According to Republican leaders of the Eighth district, former Congressman King Swope will dictate the appointment of every presidential postmaster in the 11 counties comprising the district. This assurance, it is said, has been given by Senator R. P. Ernst. The desirable postmasterhips include Shelbyville, Lawrenceburg, Harrodsburg, Nicholasville, Richmond, Danville, Lancaster, Stanford, Taylorsville, Columbia, Liberty and Berea."

C. C. THOMAS DOING FINE IN GEORGIA TOWN

Many people have wondered what became of C. C. Thomas, former secretary of the Richmond Chamber of Commerce, after he left the State Inspector and Examiner's office at Frankfort. He is now head of the commercial organization at Waycross, Ga. H. H. Brock, well-known grocer, met him there last week, while on a visit to his sister at Macon, Ga. Mr. Brock said that Mr. Thomas is doing splendidly. He is at present promoting the building of a canal from the Gulf to the Atlantic through Waycross which is a thriving little city in southern Georgia. He gave Mr. Brock a cordial welcome and inquired after his old friends in Richmond, all of whom will be glad to hear good news of him. Mr. Brock returned home greatly improved by his southern trip, having gained something like 20 pounds, and feeling a great deal better. His many friends are glad to know.

SWIFT PRODUCE REVIEW

The increased make of butter as noted in last week's review continues and there is some accumulation of stocks in the selling markets, resulting in lower markets for butter and butter fat. Poultry receipts are smaller and prices are higher. A good demand for live fowl is expected on account of the approaching Jewish holidays.
Egg prices are on a lower basis than last week, due to a surplus in excess of current requirements. Some eggs are being put in storage, but so far the price has been too high to create much interest.
J. C. Kelly sold 135 at $13.75; 70 at $25; 35 at $19.50; 140 at $6; 170 at $25; 55 at $20; 120 at $26; 140 at $25; 35 at $29; 150 at $26; 150 at $27; 75 at $17.75.

$75 Per Mile For Auto Owners Tax

For every mile of highway in the United States, that is equal to the demands of automobile traffic, each motor vehicle owner pays $75 in taxes.
That is the estimate of R. E. Anthon, a truck manufacturer, who reaches these figures this way:
In 1918, motorists paid to the various states a total of $159,000,000 in all kinds of taxes and fees, besides increasing the federal treasury by $33,000,000. Since there are 2,500,000 miles of highway, improved and unimproved, in the country—figure the cost out for yourself.—Dixie Motor News.

GUDE'S PEPTO-MANGAN IS BEST

Makes Rich Red Blood—Renews Vitality and Increases Body's Resistance to Disease

Spring is the time when good blood is so vital to health. If you do not feel the thrill of Spring in your blood, if you take no pleasure in living, if your appetite is poor, your complexion pallid or muddy, and you tire easily, you can be pretty sure that your blood is not up to the mark. So many feel that way in Spring. Especially housewives who have so much work to do. They get over-tired and run-down—their blood becomes weak and thin.

Build up your health now by taking that splendid Spring blood tonic, Gude's Pepto-Mangan. It will give vital power to the red corpuscles in your blood. They will go racing through your blood carrying fresh supplies of oxygen to all the tiny cells. It will help improve your color and your appetite. You will take more interest in things and enjoy life more. You will stop going around with that tired, all-gone feeling.

Physicians have prescribed Gude's Pepto-Mangan for thirty years. You can get it at your druggist's in either tablet or liquid form. Take whichever you prefer. They have the same medicinal value. Get the genuine.—Advertisement.

AT THE MOVIES

The plot and subject matter of "Dead Men Tell No Tales," by E. W. Hornung, author of "Raffles," provided the popular writer of crime fiction with excellent material for a sensational and enthralling novel of desperate adventure on the high seas. The novel, in turn, gave Vitagraph an opportunity to produce an astonishingly impressive motion picture.

"Dead Men Tell No Tales" has been visualized by Vitagraph as a Tom Terriss special production and will be shown at the local theatres Tuesday and Wednesday.

Senor Joaquin Santos stands as a singular figure in the literature of crime. He possesses the imagination and daring of his buccancer ancestors, together with the cold, calculating murderousness of the footpad who strikes down his victims in the dark.

In his plot to loot the treasure ship, the Lady Jernyn, of cases of Australian gold Santos planned to cause the death of all the passengers and crew, because "dead men tell no tales." He concealed this part of his fiendish scheme from John Rattray, however, knowing that the adventurous young "squire" would not willingly connive at wholesale murder.

For the Easter Wedding

IT is a good thing that wedding prove inspiring to designers, for of all occasions, they demand most at the hands of milliners. But outfitting a wedding procession is pure joy to artistic souls. Here they may be as picturesque as they please; no other hats give them so much latitude in the choice of style and use of color; none are so advantageously placed. The hats from which the mother and other relatives of the bride are to make their choice must provide distinction and brilliance in headwear.

For the Easter wedding this year, the array of hats is very literally brilliant. Millinery fabrics and novelties have multiplied opportunities for the designers, and their imaginations fairly dance to the music of novel materials and of ribbons, laces, flowers. In the group of four hats pictured there are two that will make a good choice for the mother of the bride or any other of her maternally relatives, who are on the sunny side of sixty. One of them, at the top of the group, is of brilliant black straw with a dangling fringe of cellophane ornaments about the brim edge. This is a chic and somewhat daring model, with a vivid rose posed at the front, exactly suited to the pulse of a modern mother. Just below it at the right appears a hat of shiny cellophane braid with round crown and sash of cire ribbon. This braid is shown in several colors and is very handsome in gray or the darker shades as navy and brown. A short wreath of flowers, extending from the side crown to the under brim, adds a color note that is lovely with these bright braids.

The lovely bell-crowned hat of hair braid at the left ought to rejoice the heart of any fair bridesmaid. It is shown in light colors with border of ribbon about the brim-edge and sash ends at the back. A little rose set in foliage is posed at the front. But if maids or maids of honor have set their hearts upon something distinctly of this season, the cellophane hat with lace edge, all in brown, and border of pink roses, will captivate them.

Why Billy Sunday Uses Slang

Rev. Billy Sunday uses the language that he does because of its wide appeal to all classes of people, he says.

"Staid old church people do not need to have things told to them as I tell them and the average minister preaches to the same crowd every Sunday and they understand the same language every Sunday," he said.

"But I have to speak to many whose forms never darken a church door. If I preached to them in the average pulpit I'd be shooting over their heads, for many of them never went to school and many of them never received church training. Their vocabulary consists of slang and idioms of the street and I use the slang or phrase of the street so they may understand and respond to it."

DEAD MEN TELL NO TALES

CANDIDATES ARE AFTER WOMEN VOTES

Louisville, Ky., March 14—Women will wield a powerful vote in the August primaries candidates for various offices believe. With eyes single to the female vote, added starters in the race for office attempt to tell the women something they are already certain of—"women have it in their power to elect or reject any candidate at the coming election," as Jailer Sam B. Gott puts it in his announcement asking for re-election.

"The lack of prisoners confined in prison and the high costs of food, which were four times above normal," prevented Jailer Gott deriving a cent of profit during American participation in the war, he says in his request for re-election.

Not only will the women vote but they also are asking to be voted for.

Mrs. Lelia May Jones seeking office brands "a lot of stories that are being circulated with regard to my political principles" as false. "I am not a Republican," she says, "because people said that's the way to vote, for they said you must put your 'x' under the rooster." Another of the campaign stories she says calls for denial is one that she "just got $45,000 the other day besides other stuff too numerous to mention." "I'm sorry," she continues, "but this is a false report sure. I wish I could get it wrong."

Robert Ned Vanover, in presenting Judge Roscoe anover, of the third-fifth judicial circuit for re-election, recites a few of the judge's accomplishments. "Since he began his fight about 87 stills have been destroyed in Pike and 65 in Letcher," says the announcement. Vanover is a man who has the Jewish qualifications, he has the ability and is "a self-made man."

Judge Vanover the announcement says, "can preach good gospel sermons as well as law. If my memory serves me right, he has a small mountain family of sixteen children. He had three sons and a son-in-law over there in the great war."

"The things I do not know, I will do my best to find out," says S. S. Davis, candidate for county judge of Whitley county.

J. W. Rider, of Rockcastle county, is not going to make a fight for the judgeship of the county, he says. "I have never had to fight for a job but have always had to fight the job to make an honest living."

It is as much the duty of the county attorney to see that no innocent man is convicted, as to punish the guilty, says G. W. Shadoun, candidate for county attorney of Pulaski county.

"To the Democratic ladies, I especially appeal. Nothing can afford me more pleasure than to finish my career as circuit clerk, having been endorsed as an officer by the good Democratic women of my county," says Spencer E. Holloway, offering for re-election as circuit clerk for Jessamine county.

Stella May, a relative of Gov. Edwin P. Morrow, and who is now holding a position in Frankfort, desires to return to her home in Pulaski county and be elected county clerk. Recently, Mary Hill, deputy clerk, asked the re-election of her chief in order that she might retain the place as deputy. Stella May says the deputy need have no fear, for if elected, she will not jeopardize Miss Hill's position.

SEHON BREAKING GROUND FOR KENTUCKY CHILDREN'S HOME

WHEN ground was broken Tuesday, March 1, for the $200,000 home of the Kentucky Children's Home Society at Lyndon, Ky., by George L. Sehon, head of the society, the spade marked the future monument to Kentucky childhood erected by Kentucky children.

Mr. Sehon last month announced that work would start on the group of buildings, March 1, regardless of weather conditions and the promise to Kentucky's childhood was kept. The ceremonies were marked by a solemnity befitting the great work of the only institution of its kind in the country—an institution whose mission is to redeem from the clutches of evil environment those children who have not been born with the advantages that go far toward meaning success in the business world.

"You can't make a silk purse out of a sow's ear, Sehon," one of the spectators told Mr. Sehon twenty years ago when his work was in its infancy.

"But today in many schools in Kentucky there is at least one child who got its start at the Kentucky Children's Home Society," said Mr. Sehon. "In every community there is some beloved character, man or woman, some successful man or fond parent who once was a ward of the Kentucky Children's Home Society and who now would be in the evil surroundings of his or her birth, but for the helping hand of the society."

Mr. Sehon intends to raise the fund for the cottage plan institution at Lyndon, through the schools of the state. He wants the nickels and dimes of the children to build the monument to childhood instead of obtaining the money in a lump sum from some philanthropist. He believes that through this method of raising the money, each childish heart will be filled with the thought of the good done with that nickel or dime; of the soul that has been saved or wait reclaimed.

Approximately $150,000 toward the $200,000 has been raised toward the society's fund. The ninety acre tract of land which will be the future home of the institution has been purchased, leaving about $100,000 cash on hand to be at the disposal of the society for building purposes.

It is estimated that this sum will be needed in the erection of the administration building and two double cottages which will house about 75 children each. These buildings will be completed about October 1.

As accommodations then will be available at the new home for only about 150 children, whereas about 100 children now are at the home on Baxter avenue, it may be necessary to erect some temporary buildings.

Mr. Sehon says he feels assured that the remaining $150,000 needed to complete the cottage village will be raised during the campaign this summer.

Ultimately the institution at its new location next to the Kentucky Military Institute will consist of the administration building, eight of the cottage buildings, a school, a hospital, a chapel and power plant, the latter to provide heat and light and also to manufacture ice.

DOUBLE CROSSING WAS RATHER POPULAR

(By Associated Press)
Chicago, March 14.—The trial of Chicago White Sox base ball players charged with throwing the 1919 world series, which begins today before Judge William E. Dever, of the county court, is expected to bring forth evidence that almost everyone connected with the alleged conspiracy was double crossed in some way.

The loss by Charles A. Comiskey, owner of the club, of his championship team and of players valued collectively as high as $300,000, was looked upon at the time of the jury investigation as a double crossing unparalleled in baseball history. Testimony as given during the grand jury and which will probably be introduced during the trial, indicated that the alleged plans of the gamblers charged with fixing the series and of players charged with throwing it, also went astray in several respects.

This testimony, given by witnesses, was to the effect that the gamblers double crossed certain players by not making good on promised bribes, certain players in return double crossed the gamblers by winning a game on which the gamblers had pyramided previous winnings and thus had lost many thousands of dollars for the fixers, and that some players even double crossed each other.

Here's A Good General

Stockholm, March 14.—The newspaper Nya Dagligt Allehanda today prints from an alleged well informed source, a report that General Budenny who was marching by orders of the Soviet government from Southern Russia to Moscow, on reaching Orel jointed the revolutionists with his entire army of 120,000 and assisted in the capture of Orel. The report has not been confirmed.

said that he is president and chief officer of the above-named defendant, Lexington Herald Company, and that the statements contained in the foregoing answer are true as he believes.

SUIT AGAINST HERALD DISMISSED

Rodes S. Terrill Satisfied With Apology and Retraction Made by Lexington Paper

In view of a satisfactory answer, apology and retraction filed the Lexington Herald, in the $50,000 damage suit brought against it by Rodes S. Terrill, in connection with its publication of a letter from J. A. Sullivan several months ago, Mr. Terrill had the suit dismissed at the term of Madison circuit court just ended. Attorney A. R. Burnam filed the answer on behalf of the Desha Breckinridge, editor and principal owner of the Herald. The answer in court which was accepted by Mr. Terrill and as a result of which he asks that his suit be dismissed, reads as follows:

Madison Circuit Court.
Rodes Terrill, Plaintiff
vs.
Answer.
Lexington Herald Co. Defendant.
For answer in the above entitled action, defendant, Lexington Herald Company, says it is true that there appeared in the Lexington Herald, a newspaper published in the city of Lexington, Ky., by the defendant, the article set out in plaintiff's petition; that, at the time of said publication, Desha Breckinridge, the president of the Lexington Herald Co., and the editor of said Lexington Herald, was out of the city of Lexington; that the quotation referred to in the petition was contained in a personal letter written by the Hon. J. A. Sullivan of Richmond, Ky., addressed to the editor of the Herald; that said letter contained a reference to political matters generally, especially the pending presidential race, and enclosed a check in payment of the renewal of said Sullivan's subscription to said Lexington Herald; that said Breckinridge was not expected back at his office for some time and said letter was opened by an employee of said Lexington Herald Company and was sent to the subscription department in order that the proper record might be made of the payment of said Sullivan's subscription; that an employee of said paper, noticing that said letter contained comments on the then existing presidential race, sent same to the news department for publication without reading the letter in full; that the employee of said Herald who sent said letter to said department did not read the part thereof containing the quotation made in plaintiff's petition.

Defendant says that if the employee of said Lexington Herald Company had known that said letter contained the language quoted in the petition, the said portion would have been omitted; that the name of plaintiff was not contained in said publication, and that neither this defendant, nor any of its officers or employees, had any notice prior to the institution of this action that said article applied to plaintiff; that if said Breckinridge had been present when said letter was received, or had himself received the letter, the portion of same quoted in the petition would not have been published. Defendant says that, from its investigation and from the information it now has, it finds that said article is incorrect, and that the rumor upon which said letter was based is unfounded; that plaintiff was not a "slacker" during the war, and it finds that he made every effort to get into military service, and when he failed to do so, through no fault whatever on his part, he performed other duties for the government during the war and discharged his obligations to the government as a loyal citizen to the best of his ability, and defendant says that its said investigation shows that plaintiff, during the war, performed every duty assigned to him by the government. Defendant hereby retracts the said statement contained in plaintiff's petition, and expresses its regret for the publication thereof and for any harm and injury done to the plaintiff, or his feelings, and hereby apologizes to him for said publication.

Defendant says that, after ascertaining the facts about said publication, it published four retractions thereof in said Lexington Herald.

Having answered, said defendant prays to be hence dismissed, with its costs.

RESULTS REMARKABLE SAYS NEW YORK MAN

of Rochester, New York. Prominent Rochester Citizen Tried Ten Years to Get Relief, but Tanlac is Only Thing That Helped Him

JAMES J. BEASLEY.

One of the latest to testify regarding the powers of Tanlac, the celebrated medicine which has been accomplishing such remarkable results, is James J. Beasley, 102 Elmdorf Avenue, Rochester, New York. Mr. Beasley has been chief record keeper for the department of water works, city of Rochester, for thirty years and is a well known and highly respected citizen. In referring to the remarkable recovery of his health, by the use of Tanlac, Mr. Beasley said:

"I have been trying for ten years to find relief from a case of dyspepsia. Nothing ever helped me to amount to anything until I got Tanlac. This is saying a great deal, for I did everything it seems that a man could do to find relief. Of course, I was hardly ever sick enough to go to bed and was most always able to keep going, but I just never felt right. At times during those ten years, my stomach would become like sour vinegar. I would have an uncomfortable bloated up feeling after eating that would last for hours. I suffered a great deal from nausea. At times my heart would flutter and palpitate and I would become alarmed over my condition. My nerves were on edge all the time and I became so irritable, nervous and restless, I had no strength or energy to do anything. In fact, I wasn't like myself at all. Even week or two ago it was an effort for me to get out of my chair and I felt as stiff and clumsy as an old horse."

"It is really remarkable what Tanlac has accomplished in my case. It has relieved me entirely of indigestion. I never have that distressing feeling any more after eating, and I feel perfectly fine in every way. I will always be grateful for what this wonderful medicine has done for me and I am only too glad to give it my heartiest and most sincere recommendation. Tanlac is sold in Richmond by Stockton and Son in Berea by things. In fact, I wasn't like myself at all. Even week or two ago it was an effort for me to get out of my chair and I felt as stiff and clumsy as an old horse."

WRIGLEY'S RULE FOR RESULTS

What William Wrigley doesn't know about advertising will have to be learned later. He took a nickel's worth of merchandise, added manufacturing skill, added selling genius, then added advertising.

And William Wrigley has chewing-gummed a flock of fancy fortunes out of the simple rule that he states thus:

"Tell 'em quick and tell 'em often. Advertising is like running a furnace—you've got to keep on shoveling coal. Once you stop stoking the fire goes out."

You notice that William Wrigley does not let the fire go out.

Persistence is every successful advertiser's middle name.
